NATIONAL LABOR DAY

Trades Unions Busily Engaged in Preparing for an Elaborate Celebration.

MEETING HELD LAST NIGHT.

Transportation Companies Offer Inducements for the Beaches—Governor and Other Prominent Speakers Will Come—Other Notes.

The celebration of National Labor Day by the allied trades unions of the city on the first Monday in September promises to be a most elaborate affair. Strong hopes are entertained that the Governor will accept the recent invitation extended to him to be present and deliver an address upon that occasion and in addition to the chief executive invitations will also be extended to State Treasurer B. R. Lacy and Hon. Wm. E. Springer, mayor of the city.

Another meeting of the joint committee of arrangements was held last night in the hall of the Electrical Wire Workers, on the fourth floor of the Atlantic National Bank building, and while nothing very definite was accomplished, plans for the celebration were considerably furthered and other meetings were appointed for to-morrow night in the Pythian Castle Hall and on Monday and Thursday nights of next week in the Electrical Workers' hall. The meeting last night was presided over by Mr. W. C. Wallace and Mr. J. Edgar Lewis was present as secretary. The question of deciding upon a place for the celebration was again considered. The secretary read a letter from General Manager A. B. Skelding, of the C. R., L. & P. Co., offering a round trip rate at 25c. to Wrightsville Beach to all those wearing badges to be distributed to members of each union and their friends; also to furnish one or two bands and accommodations for the crowd. Capt. W. F. Corbett, soliciting agent of the company, who is an honorary member of the Railway Carmen, was present and made a brief talk in favor of the proposition.

Capt. J. W. Harper offered a round trip rate of 25c. on the steamer "Wilmington" to Carolina Beach, and also offered to donate 25 per cent. of the fare for the use of the unions in entertaining their guests upon that occasion.

After discussion Messrs. J. E. Lewis and G. F. Quinn were appointed to still further confer with the transportation people and report at the meeting Saturday night.

A letter was read from Col. P. M. Pearsall, private secretary to the Governor, stating that his chief was then out of the city, but that the invitation to speak here on Labor Day would receive due consideration upon his return. The tone of the letter seemed to indicate strong probability of the Governor's acceptance.

The labor organizations of Newbern, Rocky Mount and Florence have written that they will send large delegations here for the celebration and the attendance is expected to be quite large.

The following committee was appointed to arrange a programme for the day: Capt. W. F. Corbett, Messrs. A. H. Weedon and E. C. Yarboro. Mr. G. F. Quinn was appointed to introduce the speakers who may be secured for the occasion.

The unionists will depend upon their friends, the local merchants and business men, to assist them in defraying the expenses of the big celebration and to that end have appointed the following committee to supervise the solicitation of donations, viz: Messrs. J. C. Powers, D. B. Sellers, J. Edgar Lewis and A. H. Weedon. Cards will be printed for display by merchants signifying to the public that they have contributed to the fund.

The meeting last night was well attended and very enthusiastic. An additional committee from the Carpenters and Joiners was present in the persons of Messrs. J. D. Sidbury, Thos. K. Rhodes and William Blake.

Firemen Had a Difficulty.

In the police court yesterday two firemen who had a difficulty at Sixth and Castle street engine house Wednesday night, were arraigned before the Mayor upon charges preferred by Foreman Canady. One of the number had a "jag" and insisted on entering the premises. The other was on watch and strenuously objected to having his fellows waked by the intruder who was from another station. The man on watch administered a black eye to the visitor with the result that both were "pinched." The case was continued until the Fire Committee can complete an investigation of the affair.

This and Next Week's Casino.

Only three more performances will be given by the splendid company of vaudevillians now holding the boards at The Casino. These will be to-night, to-morrow matinee at 4 P. M. and to-morrow evening's performance. The fare and price of admission will remain 40c. each evening this week and Manager Schloss is anxious for everybody to see the company before it closes its engagement. Next week Heller's Juvenile Opera Stars will be seen and a genuine treat is in store for those who attend.

BRUNSWICK JAIL DELIVERY.

Negro Who Shot Herbert Ross, Colored, at Navassa Last Spring Made Good His Escape.

[Southport Standard.]

Sunday morning Jailor B. F. Greer went to the jail to feed his only prisoner, Calvin Walker, who was confined awaiting the Fall term of Superior Court. The prisoner was in one of the cells in the upper story and Mr. Greer, on going up stairs, found Walker in the cell and everything apparently in order. Soon after Mr. Greer had handed the prisoner his breakfast, Walker requested a bucket of fresh water. Mr. Greer readily consented and went down stairs to the pump, which is just outside of the jail at the front. After securing the water Mr. Greer went back up stairs, and was surprised to find that his prisoner was not in the cell. He called for the prisoner, and just at this juncture Walker rushed from behind a door in an adjoining room and made his way down the steps and out in the street, Mr. Greer having left the doors unlocked on going upstairs. On reaching the street the prisoner made for the woods, and made good his escape.

Walker had cut out two of the iron bars of the cell and when Mr. Greer went out for the water he slipped out of the hole and hid behind a door in an adjoining room, and made a dash for liberty at the opportune time. The escape had been fully planned by Walker, as Mr. Greer informs us that he rushed down the steps after Walker when he made his dash for liberty, and reached him just in time to kick a bundle and an iron bar from under his arm. This disclosed the fact that the prisoner had armed himself with an iron bar and some rations for his contemplated trip, and with intentions to do harm to Mr. Greer if it became necessary to make his escape.

Walker had been in jail since April 2nd, last. He was sent here from Navassa to await trial in the Superior Court for shooting Herbert Ross in the right leg with a shot gun, from which injury Ross had to have his leg amputated. This was the second attempt of Walker to escape from jail, the first one being discovered in time to prevent his escape.

THE ELECTION OF DR. VOIGT.

He Has Not Yet Received Official Notification of His Call to the Seminary.

Rev. A. G. Voigt, D. D., pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church, this city, arrived home yesterday morning from Philadelphia, a little earlier than he had expected owing to the death of Mr. Englehard Rehder, a member of his congregation. Dr. Voigt was asked last night as to the probability of his acceptance or rejection of the call to become professor of theology and dean of the Lutheran Seminary at Charleston. He said that he had received no official notification of his election and knew nothing more than he had read in the newspapers; that he had not dreamed of such an election and, of course, could and would not give the matter any consideration until officially notified.

The people of the city at large hope that Dr. Voigt may see his way clear to remain in Wilmington and every inducement will be offered him to do so.

FUNERAL YESTERDAY AFTERNOON.

Remains of Late Engelhard Rehder Laid to Rest in Oakdale Cemetery.

The funeral of the late Engelhard Rehder, whose sad death occurred Tuesday night, was conducted at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon from the late residence, 819 Red Cross street, thence to St. Paul's Lutheran church. The services were by the Rev. Dr. A. G. Voigt, assisted by Rev. Henry W. A. Hanson and the number in attendance was very large, including a large delegation from Germania Lodge No. 4, Knights of Pythias, of which order deceased was a valued member. The floral tributes were many and very handsome.

The interment was in Oakdale cemetery the following gentlemen having acted as pall-bearers: Honorary, Dr. E. J. Wood and Mr. William Nicstlie; active, Messrs. L. H. Vollers, Henry Duls, F. P. Lamb, M. Schnibben, Geo. Haar and Chas. Blomme.

ARRANGING FOR THE CHILDREN.

Joint Committee of Odd Fellows Preparing to Entertain Orphans from Goldsboro.

The joint committee of arrangements for the annual visit of the children of the I. O. O. F. Home at Goldsboro, to Wilmington and the seashore during August will meet to-day at the office of the Jacobi Hardware Co. to perfect all plans for the coming of the little folks and those who have them in charge. Additional committees will be appointed and a programme mapped out for the entertainment of the visitors. An outline of the programme was given in these columns some time ago. About the only departure from the usual schedule of features will be that the children will stop in Wilmington for a day or two instead of going straight to Southport as before. The Wilmington Odd Fellows are looking forward with much interest to the coming of the children.

After Deserted Soldier.

Charlotte Observer, 30th: "Corporal T. J. Davis and Private Abbott, of Fort Caswell, came to the city yesterday for E. S. Carter, the young man who deserted from Fort Caswell a few weeks ago. He had formerly deserted from Fort Leavenworth, Kan., and it is very likely that the court-martial this time will administer severe punishment to the offender."

MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

No Special Meeting of the Board of Aldermen Will Be Held Until Monday Night.

LIVELY SESSION EXPECTED.

Lighting, Liquor and Other Problems to be Wrested With—Controversy Over an Alley and Opinion by City Attorney Upon Same.

The Board of Aldermen yesterday finally abandoned the idea of a special meeting for this week and none will be held until the regular session Monday night. There were a number of matters that seemed to Mayor Springer earlier in the week to demand immediate attention but those matters so arranged themselves that it was later thought inexpedient to call them up until they came in regular order.

One of the questions was the controversy between the city and the administrator of the Rothwell estate over the 10-feet alley way, next north of the Odd Fellow building, opposite the City Hall, reference to which was made in these columns some time ago. City Attorney Bellamy to whom the matter was referred yesterday submitted a verbal opinion to Mayor Springer, advising against a surrender of the two feet claimed by the Rothwell estate, inasmuch as eight feet of the alley were devised for public use in 1853 and the two remaining feet now belong to the city by virtue of possession during the long term of years. A formal report by the City Attorney will be made Monday night.

The lighting question will be another prolific source of argument Monday night. The proposition of the C. R., L. & P. Co. to renew its contract will be again submitted as will also that of the Turrentine Light Co. to install a system of Kitson lights. It is also quite likely that the committee recently appointed to investigate the cost of a lighting plant to be owned by the city will be ready with a report. It is known that letters have been written to near-by cities asking the result of their experience with municipal ownership and that figures have been obtained relative to the cost of a sufficient plant. The Light Committee contends that inasmuch as the city now pays approximately $10,000 per year for its lighting, a plant could be made to pay for itself in a few years. However, there appears now little doubt but that the contract will go for another year at least to the present contractors.

The ever-recurring liquor license problem will also have another inning Monday night, the committee in charge of drafting new "rules and regulations" for the traffic having arrived at an agreement and an ordinance having been prepared, which has been duly approved by the City Attorney as to form. The matter of early closing, agitated in some quarters, will not be touched in the ordinance as drafted and, it is said, there will be few changes, except in verbiage, from the rules adopted at the suggestion of Alderman Gafford at the first meeting in July and afterwards revoked.

Then the unusual monthly routine business will come up and to a "man up a tree," it appears there will be something for the inhabitants to talk about for months to come.

THE BIG PICNIC AT ROOK'S.

It Was a Splendid Success—More Than Five Hundred Were Present.

[Special Star Correspondence.]

ROOK'S STATION, N. C., July 29.—This evening Capt. W. H. Ward is wearing a broad smile, and well he may, after his great success with the picnic and dance, for to him and his great energy is due one of the most successful entertainments ever held in the county, assisted by his able committee, composed of J. F. Simpson, Lee Woodcock, Jas. H. Colvin, G. F. Lucas, Jr., J. H. Woodcock and James Montague.

Early in the day, from all parts of this and adjoining counties, a steady stream of buggies, loaded down with the youth and beauty of the country, drove down to the Woodcock mill, an ideal spot for a picnic. On the arrival of the morning train from Wilmington some fifty or sixty of Wilmington's fair daughters and noble sons were landed at the station, where conveyances were on hand to transport them to the scene of festivities, where they joined their country friends. In a short time the Italian band struck the warning note that soon had the fine pavilion filled with those who touched fantastic toe to the queen's taste until the committee announced that dinner was ready. And such a dinner will long be remembered by all present. An immense table had been constructed in the beautiful oak grove, where the bountiful supply of good things was placed and dispensed by fair hands. For good things and good cooking commend me to the housekeepers of Caswell township. After a bountiful feast some returned to the pavilion, while here and there could be seen couples sitting quietly engaged in a love chat in some secluded spot as though the world was all their own. There was on the ground and for sale at moderate prices iced refreshments of various kinds.

A Wilmington photographer was on hand and was kept quite busy most of the time. There is one thing our entire community wish to thank Capt. Ward and the committee for, and that is the splendid order maintained. It had been generally understood that there would be no drinking of liquor tolerated on the ground.

A conservative estimate of the number present is five hundred. As there is no better place in Pender county for a picnic, we hope to see them kept up at this place every year.

EXCLUDE BROUGHTON'S CHURCH.

Baptist Association in Session at Conyers, Ga., Voting Upon That Action.

[Special to Augusta Chronicle.]

CONYERS, GA., July 29.—Test votes on amendments and substitutes offered for the resolution introduced by Rev. I. G. Walker, the effect of which is to withdraw fellowship from the Tabernacle Baptist church of Atlanta, of which Rev. Len G. Broughton is pastor, on account of its practice as to "alien immersion," indicate that the Tabernacle will be excluded, as there seems no chance for the compromise resolution offered by Dr. S. Y. Jameson.

Dr. Jameson was in the midst of a speech at 5 o'clock this afternoon when the Association adjourned in accordance with previous agreement.

The question will come before the Association as soon as it convenes in the morning and will be pressed to a vote.

WILLIAM H BERNARD.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

FRIDAY MORNING, JULY 31.

IS THE RACE DECADENT.

Says the Lynchburg News: A leading English medical authority in an address to an association of advanced students takes the ground that there is a great increase of the chronic insane. Melancholia is increasing, leading to chronic insanity. This is held to be particularly the case in the upper and middle classes from 18 to 20 years of age.

This is a discouraging statement, especially when taken in connection with other pessimistic predictions in reference to the future of the race. We are told that the physical man of to-day is inferior in vigor to his remote ancestors. His eyesight is failing and there is danger that in a few more generations man will become a toothless animal. The Duke of Wellington gives his support to the theory of decadence.

He brings forward an array of statistics to prove that the classes from which Tommy Atkins is in the main recruited are not what they were in the times of the Iron Duke. The weak links are increasing in the additions to the English army.

We hear the same kind of talk about decadence in France, in Germany, and even in the United States. Here the public is treated with homilies about race-suicide which sound very ridiculous when taken in connection with the census statistics showing the marvelous rate of increase in our populations. It is true that numbers may increase while the vigor of the race is declining.

The medical authority above quoted assigns as the cause of the alleged decadence the great stress of education, making heavy drafts on the mental and physical powers. The fear is expressed that late hours, unnatural excitement and the greater pressure of life have all had their effects in the increase of insanity, and the conclusion is reached that the English race generally is less robust mentally as well as physically than formerly.

This conclusion will hardly be accepted as a demonstrated fact. It may be that insanity is on the increase and the causes assigned may account for the increase. Certainly the rush of modern life in this age of steam and electricity puts a greater strain on brain and nerves than the easy going life of our ancestors, but if the English races is less robust to-day than formerly the decline must be explained on some other theory, for millions of Englishmen are subjected to very little strain in acquiring education, according to the general acceptance of that term, by which is meant scholastic attainments, for it is conceded that illiteracy prevails very extensively in England.

It is more rational to conclude that if there is any modern decadence in manhood is due more to the growth of the factory system than to the strain to the faculties in the school-room. A hundred years ago most Englishmen led an outdoor life. They were engaged in agricultural pursuits, breathed the free air of the country and exercised all of their muscles in manly sports. Now many thousands of both sexes of every age spend long hours within factory walls or in underground mines. They lead a monotonous life, learning to do one single thing which they must practice day in and day out. Such a mode of life dwarfs the intellect and prevents the symmetrical development of the physical man.

But after all we can set over against these discouraging statements which seem to indicate decadence, the well established fact that human life is lengthening. Statisticians and scientists tell us that the average term of life for man is three years longer, and for woman five years longer than it was in the first quarter of the nineteenth century. It is probable that a greater number of persons now pass the psalmist's limit of life—three score years and ten—than did at any other period in the last thousand years.

The next session of the Texas Legislature elects a United States Senator to succeed Senator Culberson, and as that gentleman is a candidate for re-election, he is now making a tour of his State to feel the pulse of the masses as regards his return to Washington. While there is no apparent opposition to him, the senior Senator from Texas is experienced enough in politics to know that occasionally the unexpected happens in that sometimes fickle field. He is determined that it shall not happen to him. That's why he's so active nowadays in visiting his constituents in all parts of Texas.

CONSULAR REFORM.

The New York Tribune says the United States consular service has been greatly improved in recent years, but it is still far from being a perfect instrument for the development of our foreign commerce. The old idea that a consulate is a convenient berth for political workers to a considerable extent still holds away, and the offices, especially those which are largely remunerative, are almost always bestowed as political rewards. The Lodge bill for reorganizing the consular service was pressed in the last Congress, but the influence of the spoilsmen was great enough to defeat it. The advocates of the reform are not discouraged. The National Business League is making an active campaign to arouse interest in the matter, is seeking any information which may lead to the still further perfection of the measure, and will have it introduced in both houses at the first session of the LVIIIth Congress.

The bill, as reported favorably by the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations of the last Congress, provides for the classification of consuls into six classes and of consuls general into four classes, all of whom are to be compensated wholly by salaries, and the consular fees are to be turned into the Treasury. Two consuls general of the first class may receive $10,000 each, eight of the second class $8,000 each, thirteen of the third $6,000 each, and thirteen of the fourth $5,500 each. The salaries of consuls will range from $5,000 to $1,800 a year. Certain minor consuls who are to be paid by fees not exceeding $1,000 a year are excepted from the provisions of the bill. All vacancies in the higher grades are to be filled by promotion from the grades below, and when a vacancy is to be filled in the lowest grade the fact is to be certified to a board of consular examiners, consisting of the Civil Service Commission and a consul. This board is to hold competitive examinations and certify five names to the President, with detailed reports on their qualifications "for his information." From them the President is expected, though he is not absolutely required, to make his selection.

The examination subjects must include either French, German or Spanish in addition to the vernacular, and the commercial resources of the United States with reference to the possibility of extending trade with foreign countries. In addition, when a consul is to be sent to a country where the United States exercises extra-territorial jurisdiction, the examination is to include the fundamental principles of the common law, the rules of evidence and the trial of civil and criminal cases. Perhaps the examinations might be made more practicable by allowing the language of the country to which a consul is to be sent—for instance, Italian or Swedish—to be substituted by candidates. In case a general eligible list was made out, they could be put on it as fitted for a particular country and certified when one of the consulates there became vacant.

The spoilsmen in Congress, of course, have great contempt for this reform. But the demand for it is not confined to the doctrinaires whose counsel of perfection it is their habit to scorn. The business interests of the country want consular reform. They are awakened as never before, not only to the possibility, but to the need of foreign trade. They must have it not merely for an outlet for increasing production, but to give steadiness to commerce and avoid the ups and downs incident to a limited market area which can be controlled by one set of conditions. These business interests when they have really made their earnestness known will be listened to by politicians. If they do not secure the reform in the next Congress they may still be confident of winning in the end, provided they continue to demand better facilities for foreign trade.

CURRENT COMMENT.

—It is Virginia's right to put a statue of Lee in the Capitol. It was for her to say whether she would exercise that right or not. She has said, in effect, that she will do so, and that the two statues she will furnish will be those of Washington and Lee, and the order for the construction of them has been given. Now for the Grand Army of the Republic to throw its influence in favor of a repeal of the existing law or to file a protest against its execution would be mischievous in the extreme.—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

—There will be little incentive for Geronimo to backslide. Speaking after the manner of men, he is pretty much "all in," and there is very little doing in these days in the massacre line. He is old enough to secure a dispensation for what firewater he may need as a tonic and the frontier Methodists don't kick on tobacco. Geronimo's smart play is to turn exhorter, to save those sinners who never killed anybody and who are leaning on the frail prop of their own righteousness, "which is as filthy rags," and to depart this life in the odor of sanctity.—Kansas City Star.

—The New York World, referring to the diplomatic triumph of Secretary Hay in securing an "open door" for this country in Manchuria, says: "It is in its larger political aspect, as the settlement of another small but irritating dispute between great nations and the removal of another pretext for war talk if not for war, that Secretary Hay's latest success in treaty-making is of value to this country and to the greatest of world-interest—which is peace." It is a truth which ought to be impressed upon the mind of every man that the greatest of world-interests is peace. John Hay is a statesman of a high order. Such statesmen are always for peace.—Rochester Union.

—"I'm sorry to hear your wife is suffering from her throat. I hope it is nothing serious?" "No, I don't think so. The doctor's forbidden her to talk much. It'll trouble her a good deal, I expect, and she won't be herself for some time."—American Hebrew.

—"I wish, Susan," said a fond Philadelphia mother to her new nursemaid, "that you would use a thermometer to ascertain if the water is the right temperature when you give baby his bath." "Oh," replied Susan, cheerfully, "don't you worry about that. I don't need no thermometer for baby. If the little 'un turns red the water is too hot; if he turns blue, it's too cold, and there you are."—Philadelphia Ledger.

Elephant Love.

A pathetic story of intelligence and affectionate solicitude of an elephant comes from the Midnapur district in Bengal.

A wild tusker and a younger animal had done great damage to crops, and the head man of the district, Baba Ganjan Lal Malia, attempted to kill them. He shot the larger animal in the leg, disabling it, but not sufficiently for any one to approach it.

For a month the animals lingered in the district, the smaller one ministering to the wants of its wounded companion, and by furious charges kept the villagers at a safe distance.

Twisting its trunk about that of the stricken brute, it uttered the most mournful cries, fanned the wound and gave every evidence of acute distress. When the wounded elephant died, its companion disappeared and has not been seen since.—London Express.

—More than $20,000 have been raised from voluntary contributions to continue the work of Greensboro Female College and save it from being sold.

—Owing to the disastrous results of the Nag's Head fire Sunday night a large number of the visitors of Hertford who have been spending the summer at the popular resort are returning home.

—A prominent Raleigh lawyer says he has excellent reasons for the belief that the commissioners' assessment will increase the valuation of railway properties from $42,000,000 to at least $70,000,000.

—Mr. Hammond, of Pennsylvania, who went to Henderson recently to open a "Racket Store," committed suicide Monday night in his room over the O'Neal store. He was found dead Tuesday morning. Several persons heard the pistol shot about 10 o'clock P. M. The cause of the suicide is not known.

—Jefferson Reporter: Just as we go to press we learn that Mr. Barnett Idol, late county commissioner, shot Mr. Lindsay Loman, a neighbor, with a shot gun at Idol, N. C., this morning. It is not known what provoked the difficulty, but it is thought it grew out of some land matters. The extent of Mr. Loman's injuries are not known.

—Norfolk Virginian-Pilot: Willie Oates, a young man from Edenton, N. C., is stranded in the city and appeared at the Mayor's office yesterday for assistance. Oates claimed he was the victim of robbers at Ocean View; that he lost $2, which was all he had, and that he was in a quandary how to reach home. The Mayor provided for the young man and he returned to Edenton sadder but wiser.

—Goldsboro Argus: Mr. W. T. Dortch, as attorney, has received a check for $5,000 from the Seaboard Air Line Railroad Co. for Mr. Henry Elmore, of Mt. Olive, who was injured while coupling cars on that road two years ago. The case was tried in the Superior Court, in this city, last Spring a year ago, when the jury gave the plaintiff a verdict. An appeal was taken to the Supreme Court, which tribunal sustained the verdict.

—Laurinburg Exchange: Our watermelon and canteloupe farmers are now in their busiest season. Car after car is loaded on several sidetracks built by the railroad people for the convenience of these farmers, and almost whole train loads are hauled away from Laurinburg daily. The crop is not so plentiful as last year, but we hear that the fruit is of a finer quality and good prices prevail.

—A negro broke into the house of Paul Lee, on Blount street, Raleigh, while the family was away, wrapped up numerous articles he intended to carry away, then entered the pantry, drank a quantity of wine, got drunk and left without the booty. Later in the night the police arrested Lynn Stevens, a negro boy, drunk and asleep. A pistol supposed to be Mr. Lee's was found on him.

—Raleigh cor. Charlotte Observer: One of the new arrivals at the Soldiers' Home is a man named Lawrence, from Wilkes county. He is wounded in a most remarkable manner. In 1862 a bullet went in his right eye and lodged at his left jaw. He recovered of course, losing the sight of that eye, and re-entered the service. The following year he was again shot, this time the bullet entering at the left jaw and making its exit at the right eye, thus exactly reversing the previous wound. Lawrence is a very cheerful man and his double wound has not particularly disfigured him.

—Statesville Landmark: In Charlotte the other day a lady was arraigned in a magistrate's court charged with poisoning her neighbor's chickens and was sent to a higher court under a bond of $25. Mr. W. F. Hardin, attorney for the defence, argued that the client was not guilty and he informed an Observer reporter that the defence would maintain that a chicken can't be poisoned. "Chickens, said Mr. Harding, "have no stomach, and can eat strychnine or prussic acid without any quickening of the pulse." This is the news. Mr. Harding may be right, but if he thinks chickens won't die from eating things let him drop some salty dough among a flock and watch results.

—Salisbury Sun: Mr. Will Hollobaugh, of Litaker township, suddenly became deranged while attending Sunday school at Faith yesterday. During the services he was observed to talk ramblingly and soon as services were concluded he ran to the woods. A searching party was instituted and after several hours he was found in the cemetery by the grave of his child, which died recently. He was taken to the home of his sister and carefully guarded for some time. He watched for an opportunity, however, and made his escape by jumping through a window. Although a search has been kept up since, he has not yet been found. It is believed that grief over his child's death caused his derangement.

Compliments.

Miss Koy—In discussing the "galaxy of beauty" at the ball the other night Mr. Grafton paid me quite a compliment.

Miss Speitz—The idea! That's so unlike him. I never before heard of his paying anything before it's due.—Philadelphia Press.

Agreed.

"My wife and I agree perfectly about some things," remarked Mr. Meekton, with a gentle smile.

"Indeed?"

"Yes; when anything goes wrong I take it for granted that it is my fault, and Henrietta always thinks so too."

COTTON MARKETS.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, July 30.—The cotton market opened as at an advance of twenty points on July and three on August, while the new crop was one point higher to five points lower and during the entire session ruled very irregular, showing considerable excitement, at times activity. The old crop months at first showed great firmness in covering, with July attracting more demand than on any previous morning this week, while the later positions which at the start had shown a declining tendency as a result of realizing, also recovered and for a time ruled firm with the near positions, bullish news from New Orleans and a renewal of clique support. Then July which had sold up to 13.64 dropped down to 13.44 and was offered still lower without finding buyers, and this with rather easier cables caused a partial reaction in the new crop options so that around midday they were at practically last night's finals. Additional and heavy rains were reported from Texas, however, which again stimulated buying, and with another show of clique support the market was soon up to the best level of the day with August selling at 12.49, September at 10.90 and October 10.03, the general list with the exception of July showing net gains of three and twelve points. July in the meantime had reached 13.15, then suddenly turned strong, selling up to 13.50, while just before the close the balance of the list was very weak under bear pressure, with August selling down to 12.30, then dropping to 12.20 on the last sale. July closed at 12.40, a net advance of four points. The general tone at the close was steady. Sales were estimated at 150,000 bales. To day was the last notice day for July contracts and the trade this morning was nervous and apprehensive of development in that position. A rumor had been circulated late yesterday to the effect that July shorts were outstanding in excess of the cotton available for delivery and the early demand tended to confirm this view. Notices were issued estimated to the amount of 6,000 bales, and were promptly taken, presumably by the bull clique. A factor in the early advance was the strong spot situation in Liverpool, sales there of some 8,000 bales being reported at an advance of six points, and while in some quarters the heavy rains reported were considered of benefit to the crop, they exerted a bullish effect on the average.

A FATHER'S GRATITUDE.

Many a Family in Wilmington will appreciate the following

Many a strong man and many a healthy woman has much for which to thank father and mother. The care taken during their childhood brought them past the danger point and made them healthy men and women. Children are generally bothered at some period with incontinence of urine, and inability to retain it is oftimes called a habit. It is not the children's fault—the difficulty lies with the kidneys, and can be readily righted if taken in the proper way. A Wilmington parent shows you how.

J. T. Ebert, of 515 South 6th St., mattress maker, says: "I used Doan's Kidney Pills in my family. My little girl complained of severe pains in the small of her back, and the kidney secretions were dark and full of brickdust sediment. We were very much worried about her and when I learned of Doan's Kidney Pills I went up to R. R. Bellamy's drug store and got a box and gave them to her. Since using them she has improved wonderfully and is a different child. Her kidney secretions cleared up, she does not complain of her back, and in fact Doan's Kidney Pills gave her new life." We are very much pleased with them and you can use my name and welcome."

For sale by all dealers. Price, 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

DR. MOFFETT'S TEETHINA (TEETHING POWDERS)
Costs Only 25 cents at Druggists,
Or mail 25 cents to C. J. MOFFETT, M. D., ST. LOUIS, MO.

Cures Cholera-Infantum, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, and the Bowel Troubles of Children of Any Age. Aids Digestion, Regulates the Bowels, Strengthens the Child and Makes TEETHING EASY.

OFFICE OF D. H. HARDY, Secretary of State, AUSTIN, TEX., Nov. 21, 1900.
I have found Dr. Moffett's TEETHINA a splendid remedy and aid for my teething children. When my oldest boy was a teething child, every succeeding day warned us that we would inevitably lose him... I happened upon TEETHINA, and began at once administering it to him, and his improvement was marked in 24 hours, and from that day on he recuperated. I have constantly kept it and used it since with my children, and have taken great pleasure in sounding its praises to all mothers of young children. I found it invaluable even after the teething period was passed.
MRS. D. H. HARDY.

Early American Sculptors.

It is worthy of special notice that when Rush began to model in clay not one of the artists who have given celebrity to our native sculpture had seen the light of day. Frazer was not born until 1790 nor Ezekiel Auger of New Haven until 1791. The latter was originally in the grocery trade, but, failing in that, took up modeling and wood carving without any guide except his natural instincts; but, like the majority of our early sculptors, with the exception of Rush, his efforts are interesting only as evidence of what talent entirely unobstructed can accomplish.

It was not until 1805, long after Copley, West, Malbone, Allston and Stuart had demonstrated our capacity for pictorial art, that Hiram Powers was born. The same year Horatio Greenough first saw the light of day. In the remote wilds of Kentucky Hart was brought into this world in 1810, and Clevenger, Crawford and Mills followed in 1812, 1813 and 1815. Thus we see that without hereditary genius or predecessors from whom to copy Rush achieved his artistic results and succeeded in winning for himself a European renown which made him the equal of some of the leading foreign carvers and sculptors of his age and at the same time well earned the title of "father of American sculpture."

Native Australian Tree Climbers.

A black never uses his knees when climbing. If the tree is small in girth, he sometimes uses a vine, passing it around the tree and holding on to it as he ascends. The most common way, however, is to ascend by means of notches cut into the tree or bark about one and a half inches deep and about three feet apart. Having fixed upon the side he intends ascending, the climber cuts a notch with his tomahawk about the height of his waist and another on a level with his head, but a little to the right or left of the lower notch, as the case may be. These notches are made by a few taps of the hatchet, first horizontally and then down at an agle of forty-five degrees. Having cut the two lower ones, the ascent is made by standing on the ball of the foot, with the great toe in the notch, while the climber cuts a fresh notch level with his head, and so on until the lower branches are gained.

Often the gum trees run eighty feet from the ground up to the lowest limb, the trunk of the tree being perfectly smooth. These notches are cut with great regularity, for, measured on a fallen tree, the distance between them seldom varies half an inch. In rescending a tree fresh cuts are made for every fresh ascent.

For the Brain and Nerves.

Science has demonstrated most conclusively that mental and nerve power is dependent upon food containing phosphorus.

It is but natural that the same laws which apply to the muscular system should apply likewise to the brain. For instance, wheat contains phosphorus, which it gets from the soil and in the absence of which it could not live.

Wheat is supposed to supply to the human system the elements it gets from the soil. Since the action of the mind is dependent on phosphorus, wheat, fish, cheese, oatmeal and barley can be regarded as brain foods.

It is a well known fact that the brain contains phosphorus in proportion to its power of producing mental effort and that this element must be supplied in proportion to mental activity.

So it can be readily seen that one's mental education begins in the dining room as well as in the classroom.—American Queen.

A Clear Course.

The man who is calm has his course in life clearly marked on his chart. His hand is ever on the helm. Storm, fog, night, tempest, danger, hidden reefs—he is ever prepared and ready for them. He is made calm and serene by the realization that in these crises of his voyage he needs a clear mind and a cool head; that he has naught to do but to do each day the best he can by the light he has; that he will never flinch or falter for a moment; that, though he may have to tack and leave his course for a time, he will never drift, he will get back into the true channel, he will keep ever headed toward his harbor. When he will reach it, how he will reach it, matters not to him. He rests in calmness, knowing he has done his best.—William G. Jordan.

No Offense Intended.

At the exhibition of the International Live Stock association in Chicago a portly old gentleman remarked to one of the men in charge of the cattle department, "You don't call this the 'fat stock show' any more, it seems."

"No," replied the other. "It's quality that counts with us now and not quantity. You can put fat on any kind of an animal, and after it's all done he's nothing but a big, fat—I—I—I beg pardon, sir! I—I hadn't noticed—I didn't mean"—

The portly old gentleman had begun to turn red, and the attempted apology only made the matter worse. After an ineffectual effort to express himself he waddled on in speechless indignation.

Andalusian Specter.

Upon a mountain in Andalusia quaint spectral forms are frequently seen. Whenever there is a heavy mist and persons are ascending the mountain they appear in all their ghostly splendor and sometimes so suddenly as to strike dismay into the hearts of those who see them for the first time.

Of course it is all a trick played by the sun. When a mist partially shrouds the mountain, the sun is naturally obscured, and then he revenges himself by projecting the shadow of any person who is ascending the mountain until it assumes the form of a gigantic specter.

Early.

"You will come home early, won't you?" she said as he was starting for the club.

"Oh, yes; I'll be home early," he replied.

"But of course, dear," she persisted, "you understand that I mean early tonight, not early tomorrow morning."—Chicago Post.

The Morning Star.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

FRIDAY MORNING, JULY 31.

BOOKER WASHINGTON AT A BOSTON MEETING.

A Riot Started—Police Called to Quell the Disturbance—One of the Officers Stabbed—Arrests Made.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

BOSTON, MASS., July 30.—An attempt on the part of half a dozen colored persons opposed to Booker T. Washington, president of Tuskeegee Institute, to ask questions at a meeting which he was addressing to night at Zion church, almost resulted in a riot and twenty-five policemen were called in to quell the disturbance. Several arrests were made. One policeman received a deep stab from a hat-pin, while a man said to be one of those opposed to Mr. Washington received razor cuts and is now in the hospital. After the arrests, Mr. Washington was allowed to proceed, and spoke for nearly two hours.

Both factions at the close of the meeting issued statements. Mr. Washington said in his statement that the colored people of Boston should not be held responsible for a few riotous individuals, while Wm. Monroe Trotter, one of those who was arrested, stated that the cause of the rioting was the absurd ruling of the chairman, Mr. Lewis, in ordering the arrest and ejection of any person who hissed or manifested any objection to the speaker of the evening.

It is said that the disturbance was pre-arranged and after the meeting Mr. Trotter and his friends admitted that they went there with the idea of asking Mr. Washington a number of questions and to resent any attack that might be made on the New England representatives to the recent Afro-American council at Louisville.

The meeting was held under the auspices of the colored business men's association of this city, and William H. Lewis, one of the United States assistant district attorneys, presided.

KENTUCY FEUD CASES.

Commonwealth Produced New Witnesses and Additional Evidence in Second Trial of Jett and White.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

CYNTHIANA, KY., July 30.—The Commonwealth, in the second trial of Curtis Jett and Thomas White for the murder of Marcum, to-day not only produced new witnesses, but also secured additional evidence from those who had testified at the first trial at Jackson.

S. S. Taulbee, clerk of Breathitt county, testified to standing at the Hargis Bros'. store, across the street from the Jackson court house, and seeing Marcum fall and Ewen running away. He did not see Jett in the street, where the prisoner claims to have been at the time of the shooting.

Wm. Coombs testified to holding county offices at Jackson for thirty-seven years. He was in Judge Black's office when he heard the shooting. Looking out he saw Marcum fall and Jett afterward emerging from the court house.

Hezekiah Coombs' witnesses testified to seeing John Noble, Curtis Jett and Thomas White together just before the shooting. White beckoned Jett out of a sidedoor where both entered. He talked with Noble there and soon he heard shooting and saw Ewen running away.

J. W. Back, J. L. Patrick and Dr. Hogg testified that Jett was not outside of the court house when the shot was fired, that he entered the court house before the shooting and came outside after the shooting.

Barney Schiff testified during the afternoon session that he had seen Curtis Jett go into the court house a few minutes before the killing of Marcum and come out immediately at the firing of the shots. He was vigorously cross-examined.

Court then adjourned until to-morrow.

CALIFORNIA CONVICTS.

The Militia Lost Trace of the Men Last Monday Night.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

SACRAMENTO, CAL., July 30.—A special to the Bee from the Folsom State prison, says that the latest reports received show that the militia have had absolutely no trace of the escaped convicts since Monday night. The fugitives are thought to be doubling back from the vicinity of Lotus to the neighborhood of Rattlesnake Bar and Zontgraff mine. The country in which the fugitives are supposed to be has a number of deserted cabins and several orchards which will afford them shelter and food. Guard Cochran, who was stabbed in the prison fight, is slightly worse and his recovery is still doubtful.

CHICAGO MURDER TRIAL.

John Willitrax Convicted and His Wife Acquitted by the Jury.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

CHICAGO, ILL., July 30.—After being out a little over two hours, the jury in the case of John and Elizabeth Willitrax, who were on trial for the murder of Paul Passekowski, to-day returned a verdict of guilty against John Willitrax, while his wife Elizabeth was acquitted. The trial attracted much attention from the fact that the eleven-year-old son of the defendants gave the most damaging testimony against them and afterwards took the stand for the defence and denied all his former testimony.

THE TRAGEDY AT LOWELL, MASS.

Number of Dead Reaches Nineteen and May Be Increased to Twenty-one.

DILIGENT SEARCH WAS MADE.

But No Traces of Unknown Victims Were Found in the Debris—Loss to Insurance Companies is Light, But to Laboring Men Heavy.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

LOWELL, MASS., July 30.—A long line of hearses moving slowly through the streets to-day was a pathetic reminder of yesterday's catastrophe, when an explosion of tons of nitroglycerine, dynamite and gunpowder snuffed out nearly a score of lives, painfully injured more than double that number of persons and scattered half a hundred buildings over a space of several acres. To-night the number of dead stands at nineteen and may be increased to 21 at any minute by the death of two of the victims now at St. John's hospital.

All day the searchers probed through the debris for any traces of possibly unknown victims of the tragedy, but nothing was brought to light which would indicate that the number would be greater than reported. A small bit of cloth, later identified as the lapel of a coat worn by one of the victims already known, and a human eye, were the only gruesome reminders unearthed.

Every portion of the ruined territory has been carefully covered. Insurance adjusters state that the loss to their companies will be comparatively light, as only the loss resulting from fire will fall upon them. This will mean that many of the householders, nearly all of them laboring men of small means, will lose everything they had in the world. The official report of the Tewskbury select men, which was made public to-night, places the loss in the immediate vicinity of the powder magazines at more than $100,000, and as the loss will fall largely upon the householders, much hardship will result.

Already the select men have taken steps to relieve the suffering and in addition a number of army tents have been supplied by Adjutant General Dalton, to be used as temporary shelters.

A relief fund started by the local papers yesterday had reached the $2,000 mark to-night. After going over the ruins this afternoon, Judge Hadley, of the local municipal court, stated that he would insist upon the presence of the district attorney at the inquest which soon will be held.

THE ILLINOIS RACE RIOT.

A Number of Arrests Made at Danville, More Warrants Are Out—Governor Yates Denounces the Mobs

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

DANVILLE, ILL., July 30.—The police to-day arrested Winifred Baker, who, it is said, led the mob in its attack on the jail last Saturday night. Three more arrests were made to-day in addition to the leaders, making seventeen in all. More warrants are still out and the officers expect to have twenty-five members of the mob in jail by next Monday. The city council to-night passed resolutions commending Sheriff Whitlock for firing into the mob that attacked the jail.

SPRINGFIELD, ILL., July 30.—Gov. Richard Yates, in an address to-day to the Seventh infantry of the State militia, two battalions of which have been stationed at Danville to preserve the peace, strongly condemned the action of the mob. The Governor said:

"The men who composed the mobs which attacked the jail at Bellville and at Danville, and who in the former city took out a defenceless negro who was a prisoner there and hanged him, and who at Danville made a similar attempt, and who did capture and hang and then burn a defenceless negro who had killed another man, are nothing but anarchists."

THE PURE FOOD LAW.

Official Examination of Products from Abroad to be Made.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—The Agricultural Department to-day took its first action under the amended pure food act of July 1, 1903, by requesting authority from the Treasury Department to take samples and make a chemical analysis of certain food products shipped to this country from abroad. The permission asked for has been granted and an official examination of these products will be made to determine whether their use is deleterious to health. An inquiry also will be made to determine whether their use is prohibited in the country of their origin. In either of these contingencies their entry and sale in this country will be prohibited.

DISAPPEARANCE OF SEALS.

Fishermen on Japanese Vessels Charged With Useless Slaughter.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

SEATTLE, WASH., July 30.—Captain H. H. Nice, agent for the North American Commercial Company, at Dutch harbor, Alaska, who is here, charges the fishermen on Japanese vessels with the disappearance of seals on the Probyloff islands. He says American and Canadian fishermen masquerade under the Japanese flag and shoot seals instead of spearing them, which causes the bodies to sink rapidly, so that many are killed to no purpose, while the shooting disturbs breeding on near by islands. Captain Nice claims that unless the depredations are stopped the Probyloff islands seals will disappear in a few years.

STREET CAR DYNAMITED.

None of the Passengers Hurt—No Clue to the Perpetrators of the Outrage.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

RICHMOND, VA., July 30.—A Broad street car was dynamited to-night, near the western limits of the city. It ran over the explosive and the latter went off, tore a big hole in the ground and damaged the car to a considerable extent, lifting the front part of the car from the trucks and shattering the glass in the windows and doors. There were twelve passengers on the car. None of these were hurt, nor was either the motorman or the conductor injured. There is no clue to the perpetrators of the outrage.

A REVOLUTIONARY UPRISING IN CUBA.

Inhabitants Excited, But No Acts of Violence Reported—Authorities Expect to Soon Suppress the Outbreak.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

HAVANA, July 30.—In spite of the assertion which has been made that the killing of three men and the capture of a fourth man, their leader, who had attempted to cause an uprising in the vicinity of Bayamo, province of Santiago, effectually ended to day's semblance of an uprising in Cuba, the rumors of uprisings in eastern Cuba were fully confirmed today in the government reports received from the governor and other officials of Santiago province. These are to the effect that since the night of Sunday last, sixty armed and mounted men have appeared outside villages in the Cauto river district, proclaiming a revolution and demanding the payment of the former leaders of the army. No acts of violence have been reported, but the inhabitants of the Cauto region are excited. The leader of the revolutionary party is named Pupo. He is a brother of one of the bandits killed by the rural guard on Tuesday.

General Rodriguez, commander-in-chief of the rural guard, has ordered the mobilization of all the rural guards in eastern Cuba, and the governor of Santiago has been instructed to enlist as many volunteers as may be deemed necessary, to cooperate with the mounted troops.

Secretary of the Interior Yero says there is no doubt that the authorities will be able to cope successfully with the situation.

HAVANA, July 30.—Up to 10 o'clock to-night the reported uprising in the province of Santiago has not been confirmed, either by government or other reports.

Senor Yero, secretary of the interior, and other government officials now are inclined to believe that the Santiago authorities were misled by persistent rumors.

General Lora telegraphed at 10:30 o'clock to-night from Bayamo that it had been definitely determined that the reports of an uprising originated with the bandits who were shot on Monday, and he had circulated stories before that date that their band numbered seventy. The government is satisfied that the incident is closed.

MONASTERY OF SAROFF.

Interesting Religious Ceremonies of the Greek Church—The Emperor of Russia Attending.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

ST. PETERSBURG, July 30.—The ceremonies of the monastery at Saroff promise to be very interesting. The relics of St. Seraphim will be exposed for adoration after five days of religious exercises. These relics have been installed in a solid silver casket beneath a silver baldachin. The expense of the installation was borne by the emperor from his private purse, and his majesty testified his interest by writing the following marginal note on the act of canonization, "read with feelings of genuine pleasure and deep emotion."

The monastery, which is the scene of the ceremonial, is a woman's asylum, several miles from the village of Saroff, and forty miles from the nearest railway station.

The attendance includes the imperial family and court with many officials and multitudes of pilgrims. Temporary barracks have been erected to shelter the more favored guests, but the great majority of the pilgrims will be forced to sleep in stables or in the open air.

The Holy Synod has issued a statement that it remarks the "appearance of a new miracle as a renewal of Heaven's blessing upon the government of our most exalted monarch, who labors unceasingly for the welfare of the orthodox Russian people and embraces in his royal love and care all of his true subjects, of every class and condition."

U. S. WARSHIPS AT LISBON.

On Saturday Admiral Cotton Will Entertain King Charles and the Royal Princes Aboard the Brooklyn.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

LISBON, PORTUGAL, July 30.—Favored by superb weather, the American officers to-day continued their excursions in the country.

The band of the Brooklyn played on the public square here to-day and was loudly applauded by an enormous crowd of people.

On Saturday afternoon, when King Charles and the royal princes will visit the American warships, Admiral Cotton will entertain the King and his party at luncheon on board the Brooklyn. High court, military, naval and civil officials and the foreign naval attaches will be present.

The Portuguese news papers are referring approvingly to the speech made by King Charles when he received Admiral Cotton and the other American officers and entertained them at the royal castle at Cintra on Monday last. His majesty expressed himself in such sympathetic terms in regard to President Roosevelt and the people of the United States that Minister Bryan, Admiral Cotton and the other Americans present were really affected by the king's remarks.

The papers also are mentioning gratefully the speech delivered by Admiral Cotton at the banquet Tuesday night, given in honor of the American naval officers by the ministry of marine, at which all the cabinet ministers were present. His eulogies referring to Portugal are much appreciated by the papers.

PREPARING FOR THE CONCLAVE.

The Vatican the Scene of the Greatest Activity, Both Inside and Out.

SOME QUIET WORK GOING ON.

Supporters of Different Candidates Marshalling Forces for the Contest—No One Candidate Stands Out Prominently—Last Tribute.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

ROME, July 30.—The Vatican to-day was the scene of great activity, both inside and outside. Within, the last preparations were made for the conclave and everything was in the utmost confusion.

In the Sistine Chapel work will go on throughout the night. The catafalque erected for the funeral services is being pulled down and the galleries which were built for the accommodation of special personages are being replaced by stalls for the cardinals. The noise was so great that the colossal figures of Michael Angelo's "Last Judgment" seemed almost to show surprise at the busy scene which was transforming the beautiful chapel from a religious to an almost electoral aspect.

Outside the Vatican the work was of a different character, the quiet work of the supporters of the different candidates marshalling their strength for the contest which is to come when the doors of the conclave are closed. No one candidate stands out prominently, as did Count Pecci in the conclave of 1878, and the discussion here is not so much concerning the superior qualities of the candidates as of the strength with which they are credited.

Last Tribute to Leo.

The last tribute was paid to the late Pope Leo this morning, with the third great requiem mass, celebrated in the chapel of the Vatican. The function was no less ceremonious and imposing than the two others.

While there were perhaps fewer persons present there was a greater display of gorgeous uniforms. Of the sixty-two cardinals now in Rome, all attended the mass except Cardinal Oretoni, prefect of the congregation of sacred relics, who was ill.

In the churches of Rome to-day began the offering of prayers to the Holy Ghost, to assist and enlighten the cardinals to choose the right man to sit in the chair of St. Peter.

During the conclave the blessed sacrament was exposed in several churches for the special prayers of the faithful, with the same object in view.

The Mayor of Carpineto, the birthplace of Pope Leo, who proposed to erect with local contributions a monument to Leo XIII, on top of the Lepini mountains, surrounding the village of Carpineto, finding that his project was checked by the large amount of money required, intends to make it an international tribute to the late Pontiff and will ask all countries to join in the movement. He says he expects considerable contributions, especially from America.

The Italians say that the "constitution" left by Pope Leo to the conclave has been distributed among the cardinals. According to this authority it was written in Latin in 1882, and beginning with the words "Praedecessores nostri," recalls former constitutions and conclaves, especially that of Pius IX., and then complains of the condition of the Holy See "under hostile domination," and recommends the quick election of a new Pope. It advises the holding of the conclave in Rome unless the sacred college should not be in the enjoyment of full liberty and recommends the maintenance of the rights of the Pontiff. It enjoins the election of a new Pope, not according to the personal preferences of the cardinals, but according to the dictation of their consciences, inspired only by the welfare of the Church.

On the cover of the pamphlet containing the "constitution" is written, "to be kept with most absolute secrecy and with the duty of returning it."

The Cardinals' Cells.

The cardinals to-day visited the cells which they are to occupy during the conclave, and it cannot be said that they are very enthusiastic over the idea of being confined, perhaps for some time, in what are rightly termed "cells," which are without running water and necessary ventilation. It was feared that the health of some of the older and more feeble cardinals might suffer. Perhaps the most dissatisfied was Cardinal Maszary, who, as primate of Hungary is the wealthiest of the cardinals. He is credited with an income of $400,000 annually. He insists that he cannot eat with the others and must have his meals outside.

The question of compensation to be given to the physicians who treated the late Pontiff during his last illness was discussed in the congregation. KIND EDWARD AT GALWAY.

Part of the Journey of the King and Queen Made by Motor—Hearty Welcome by the People.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

GALWAY, July 30.—King Edward and Queen Alexandra continued by motor to-day their inspections of some of the wildest and most picturesque regions of Ireland. The king, in replying to an address presented at Leenaud, said he had already inspected some of the costage industries and he wishes to assure the inhabitants that he was equally pleased with the spirit of industrial activity and the warm, hearty welcome of the people which he and the queen both would long remember.

The hearty tone of his majesty's speech was received with every evidence of appreciation.

The motor journey ended at recess where the party had luncheon.

Their majesties then took a train for Galway and arrived here late in the afternoon.

The king was presented with addresses by the district council and other bodies, to which he replied briefly. Their majesties then boarded the royal yacht which was lying in Galway bay.

To-morrow they will take a train for Kenmare, near which place they will be guests of Lord Lansdowne, secretary of state for foreign affairs, at his country seat. "Dereen," county of Kerry.

J., July 30.—In a sea rougher than any she had ever raced in before and with a wind which at times blew more than twelve knots an hour, Shamrock III experienced her most severe racing trial to day and acquitted herself as became a candidate for the America's cup. Her performance in eight miles of windward work in which it was estimated that she beat her elder sister by six minutes was a surprise, even to some who have watched her for weeks. Hitherto, Shamrock I has always given the challenger a rather close rub whenever the wind has been high, but she could not do it to-day.
